Adventure Experience
MOUNTAIN BIKE / FULL DAY
The Huayllarcocha and Mahuaypampa Communities

Two wheels is the most exhilarating way to see the Land of the Incas
at the closest perspective.

By van we head for the village of Chinchero, the highest point on our ride. This is an important archeological site, known for its Incan and colonial structures.

On our bikes, we follow rural routes between fields of potatoes and grains native to the Valley. Breathtaking views of the Vilcanota Mountains accompany our ride. At Huyapo Lake, we change direction towards the communities of Huayllarcocha and Mahuaypampa, for glimpses into the lives of these villagers.

Onward we cycle to Moray, another significant archaeological site, famous for its concentric terraces built by the Incas. Here we rest and share a box lunch, before exploring these mysterious terraces which may have served as testing grounds to adapt crops from the valley to higher altitudes or vice versa. In the afternoon, we take a mule track to the colonial town of Maras, a fun and easy five mile ride.
